

SGA Video and Events

Award-winning creative communications for major brands & small businesses

Creating a video to post on Facebook or putting on a company event isn't always enough to get your business to where it needs to be. With 30 years' experience in the marketing and visual communications industry we understand what it takes to get your organisation noticed, your goals met and your business booming.

Priding ourselves in our ability to solve your problems creatively, we will work with you from initial concept through to delivery and beyond, to ensure that you connect with your audience meaningfully, strategically, on-budget and with maximum return on investment.

What our clients say

"They are good at working around issues, and attention to detail – getting under the skin and thinking of everything." Greene King

"Thank you to you and your fantastic team for all the support provided in delivering a very successful conference." Ford

"SGA delivers first time, every time." Genesis PR
